1. [ ] read a long cable from London which enunciated the British attitude toward the Chairmanship problem. A paraphrased copy of this telegram is being routed separately. It was decided that we should both query our representatives as to whether Kupi would accept Dosti as the Chairman.

2. [ ] requested whether we had any more information on the probable purchase of Dakota type aircraft from the British and received a negative reply. [ ] asked whether, apart from the air craft crew question, we were in a position to state we want the services of [ ]. [ ] reply was we should provide answer soon.

3. [ ] again poised the question of responsibility for disposal of any Pixie rejects at the completion of the training and infiltration from Malta. We told him that we recognized it to be a U. S. responsibility. Suggest [ ] should alert [ ] regarding this problem.

4. [ ] informed us that he had received another communication from the fourth VALUABLE party and that he would summarize all communications received from all parties in a memorandum to be shortly forthcoming.
